

iSeries Query

Duration: One Day

Prerequisites: None

Audience: This Query course is designed to show users, programmers and managers how to generate reports and output file data on the iSeries.

Description: Learn how to easily select, sequence and layout file data using one or more database files. Designed to show users how to generate reports and output files.

Course Content:

- Explanation of fields, record formats, and database files.
- Use of single or multiple database files.
- Selection and sequencing of fields.
- Use of sort fields.
- The method for setting up multiple report break levels.
- Selection and omission of specific records.
- Editing of numeric fields.
- Formatting and summarizing of columns.
- The creation of result fields.
- Definition of output type and output form.
- Use of report summary functions.